September 2017

Recap: June 2017 CARE Investigator Meeting

Thank you to all the speakers, presenters and everyone that participated at the CARE Investigator meeting.

We truly appreciate all your hard work and dedication in making this meeting possible as this was the largest Consortium meeting to date with over 120 members in attendance!

We look forward to your continued collaboration and networking with all of you at the next scheduled CARE Consortium Investigator Meeting.

Thank you again to our funders the NCAA and DoD for their continued support!

Spotlight on CARE Performance Sites

University of Washington (UW)

UW has been in the NCAA-DoD CARE study since its inception in 2014 and it's been a fun ride. We have over 400 NCAA varsity athletes in 15 sports and have been able to enroll more than 90% of them each year thanks to the hard work from our research coordinators, formerly Michelle Nemetz (now off to medical school—go Michelle!) and now Michaela Patton (thankfully staying on this year). We also rely on the hard work of all of our athletic trainers and team physicians, especially head athletic trainer Pat Jenkins, ATC, head football athletic trainer Rob Scheidegger, ATC and football team physician Kim Harmon, MD. PI Sara Chrisman, MD, MPH keeps the wheels turning in the background and touches base with our group of team physicians to keep them in the loop. We're ramping up the start of our football season in the midst of an unseasonable Seattle heatwave (in the 90s today) but excited to get back out there. Hoping we can keep studying our athletes for another two years.

Go Huskies!
